

GOVERNMENT PASSES FOR TRIAL OF BEEF TRUST OFFENDERS BEFORE JUDGE Writ of Habeas and Appeal to Supreme Court Will Work Delay of Year in Trial of Rich Men

QUESTION OF EQUAL TREATMENT AT LAW TO RICH AND POOR AT STAKE.

"The most far-reaching and important question in criminal jurisprudence, today, and one in which the American people are manifesting the deepest interest—is not whether offenders of great wealth can be convicted, but whether it is possible to bring them to trial in the same way and according to the same principles as in the case of the ordinary lawbreaker." United States District Attorney Wilkerson, discussing the packers case.

(Special from United Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Federal Judge C. C. Kohlstaet was today, called upon, by the United States government, to reverse himself, in one of the boldest petitions ever filed in the local branch of judiciary.

United States District Attorney Wilkerson demanded that the writ of habeas corpus which the jurist granted to nine packers, on Tuesday, be quashed on the ground that the defendants had not complied with the regular form of procedure.

Wilkerson alleged that the petition for habeas corpus writ was a demand merely to delay the trial, and that the "re-arrest" of the defendants was pretended. He related how the nine packers had surrendered to the marshal and not to the United States marshal, as the practice requires. When the defense attorneys sought to gain still further time in the present hearing, by order, they asked to prepare affidavits supporting their side of this question, Judge Kohlstaet, on request of the government refused a continuance and directed that arguments on the writ of habeas corpus continue.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—About 50,000,000 dollars worth of beef packing magnates waited with apprehensive mien, today, when Uncle Sam's prosecutors strove to fasten the poor man's justice on them and make them stand immediate trial for criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade.

A brand new legal entanglement was awaiting decision, today, by Circuit Judge C. C. Kohlstaet—the last desperate technicality raised by the beef barons to gain time in the fight against possible jail terms. Judge Kohlstaet has already held that he can review the decision of a district judge in his own circuit—a new precedent in the law.

Today, the question upon which Judge Kohlstaet ruled was as to the constitutionality of the penal provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law. In the writ of habeas corpus, counsel for the packing house magnates separate the question of fact that there is a conspiracy to monopolize trade in meat and packing house products generally from the question of law, namely, whether the penal section of the Sherman act to regulate commerce is valid and constitutionally drawn. The defendants claim the law is defective in that it does not set up any standard by which violation may be measured and that it is "undefined."

Only the Supreme Court of the United States can settle the question with finality. But adjudication of the issue in the highest court will take at least a year. Therefore, the government prosecutors, today, went into court hoping against hope that the judge would grant the writ of habeas corpus, and that the trial would be delayed until after actual trial on the question of fact and law—just as the packers had been doing. In this way, the appeal would go to the highest court in connection with the appeal in the case proper.

SURRENDER OF ENTIRE NAVY TO THE CHINESE REBELS NOW

HORSE TURNS
SOMERSAULT INTO TROLLEY

Unique Accident at Main and Congress Street Delays Traffic of Main Street

Cars Held up in Long Line While Wrecker Excavates Animal From Its Unique Position Little Injured

According to Official Messages Received at Japanese Admiralty This Is the Hardest Blow Struck at the Manchu Dynasty.

Baby Emperor, Seeing Handwriting on the Wall, Finally Prevails on Yuan Shi Kai, China's Alleged Strong Man, to Accept the Premiership and He Will Now Try to Bring Order Out of Chaos.

continue the government as a monarch, it will be so limited in its power as to take the form more nearly of the English government than any other.

The Manchu dynasty, appreciating the inevitable, has agreed to the course, public intimation of which comes direct from Yuan Shi Kai, to whom the Prince Regent and Dowager Empress have appealed to save them from the revolution which is sweeping the Manchu rulers from their thrones.

Obviously the men will represent all interests. As a matter of fact they are all adherents of Yuan and may be relied upon to do exactly as he wills. Basis for the belief that a limited monarchy is favored is shown by a statement given out by Yuan's private secretary, with Yuan's permission. In this it is declared that Yuan is convinced that a very limited monarchy is better for the Chinese people than a republic, but that he will abide by the decision of the delegates. Should Yuan be playing a double game, he can easily force the delegates to urge him to become president and he is pledged to "abide by their decision."

Yuan further is quoted by his secretary as declaring his belief that the Congress he has summoned to meet here will result in an understanding with the disaffected provinces. This is taken in some quarters to mean that the rebels of the army are strong enough, so that whatever plan is decided upon will be agreeable to the rebel leaders.

The whole program of Yuan, it is admitted, has been submitted to the Prince Regent and has met with favor as the only one that can save the Manchu dynasty.

620,000 TROOPS REVOLT
SWEARING VENGEANCE
ON ALL THE MANCHUS.

Peking, Nov. 16.—Thirty thousand troops in Hunan have revolted, defeated the imperialists in a pitched battle and are now marching on Nanking. The rebels are now in the hands of the lower Yangtze river. As the messages came from Japanese officers who have been detailed to observe the progress of the revolution they are regarded here as authentic.

The revolutionary governor of Chin Kiang, last night, tendered a formal banquet to the 150 officers of the fleet who surrendered and who swore allegiance to the newly formed republic.

BIG BATTLE COMING.

Shanghai, Nov. 16.—The big battle of the Chinese revolution, thus far, will shortly be fought at the river Nanking, unless all signs fail today. The stage is set and the engagement is about to open. The chances favor the rebels for they are well armed and full of fighting vigor.

General Chang, commander of the imperialist forces, has not yet given up without a desperate fight. He has the best modern high power rifles and field guns. They are entrenched in the city of Nanking, from which they can be driven only by a bloody assault and experts declare it will be almost impossible to dislodge them.

U. S. WAITING ORDERS.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Orders for the dispatch of a regiment of United States soldiers to China from Manila were awaited, today, by the officials of the War Department, who were given the news yesterday, by the State Department that men would be needed.

Army officers said that the move could be executed in quick order. Preparations have been proceeding quietly for more than two weeks for exactly this purpose. It was decided, they said, that the United States would not send troops to the Philippines unless the presence of the Chinese would arouse the hostility of the Chinese.

Even though the avowed purpose of sending troops to China is to protect the lives of American citizens, the cooperation with soldiers of other powers there are already ominous rumors that an American regiment would not be sent to China, because of the motives of this government has been aroused, according to reports reaching Washington, not only in the minds of the Chinese but other powers.

WU'S STRONG PLEA.

Shanghai, Nov. 16.—The republican leaders are delighted, today, over the plea of Wu Ting Fang, former minister to the United States, that the new government be a republic, that Wu's international reputation as a statesman will give great weight to his plea, and that his response will be what they most desire.

In his appeal, Wu declared the Chinese people were not united in favor of government and that they were fully able to maintain a republic.

"Now the Chinese people have struck a blow for freedom," he declared, "and out of the dust of the fallen throne we have a great democracy of 40,000,000 people."

"We declared that it was necessary for the powers to recognize the republic so that business would not be interrupted."

"We ask recognition for the republic," he added, "because the republic is a fact."

YUAN NEW PREMIER.

Peking, Nov. 16.—Yuan Shi Kai, China's strong man, today, accepted the premiership offered him in the name of the baby emperor, and he will now try to bring order out of chaos.

This fact, however, will not prevent the meeting of the representative men called together here to arrange for ending the rebellion. Yuan is satisfied that this gathering will support him in all the reforms he contemplates. In the event Yuan should later decide to break with the Manchu dynasty and force his own election as president of the new republic it is believed he will do so with the consent of the delegates.

It is expected definite action will be taken within a week which will decide whether China is to remain a monarchy or become a republic.

Representative men from all the provinces of China summoned to a secret meeting here, will determine whether China is to remain a monarchy or whether it is to become a true republic with Yuan Shi Kai, as its president.

Even if these delegates decide to

POLICE CORDON SEARCHES SCENE OF FORMER MURDER FOR MISSING ROBINS BOY Human Fiend Who Fiendishly Murdered Little Philip Mastroianni May Have Found Second Victim

New Clues Point Strongly in that Direction—Similarity of the Two Cases—Boy's Cries Heard in Woods North of Almshouse on Night of Robbins Boy's Disappearance.

Receiving information pointing strongly toward the fact that Alexander Robbins, the eight-year-old boy who has been missing since Saturday night, is somewhere in the strip of woods north of the almshouse, in just the vicinity where the body of the murdered Mastroianni boy was found, Superintendent Birmingham this morning assigned Motorcycle Policemen Gorgas and Daily to make a search of the woods, and this afternoon Detective Arnold and a squad of officers joined in the task.

The latest information leads the authorities to fear that the missing boy has shared the fate of little Philip Mastroianni, perhaps by the same brutal hands. The man who lured the little Mastroianni boy into the woods north of the almshouse, then committed a fiendish assault and murder, was never captured. The fact that the eight-year-old Robbins boy disappeared under the same circumstances into the same clump of woods gives police cause to believe that the same human brute who committed the first crime has found a second victim.

The latest information comes from residents of the vicinity who claim they heard a boy's cries in the woods on Saturday night, after the disappearance. Confirming a suspicion that has been in the minds of the police, they are bending every effort toward locating the Robbins child, dead or alive.

Missing Robbins disappeared from his home at 84 East Main street, Saturday morning, and has not been seen since. It is recalled that Philip Mastroianni, a boy of the same age, disappeared from his home in East Bridgeport about three years ago, under exactly similar circumstances. His body was recovered about five days later, in a clump of woods northeast of Beardsley Park. He had been brutally assaulted and then garroted with a shirt string which was knotted deeply into his throat. Not the slightest clue to this murder was ever unearthed.

The missing Robbins boy has dark hair and dark eyes, and a small scar from a cut on the right side of the face. When he left home he wore a suit of dark clothes and the pockets of his coat were torn. His parents and relatives are worn out from searching for him.

Weeps When She Speaks About Dog Mrs. Geo. Welterlen Doesn't Think the Animal Bit Henry Harris

Tears filled the eyes of Mrs. George Welterlen as she told the jury in the court of Common Pleas, this morning, how Henry Harris had thrown stones at her dog. Mrs. Welterlen, who lives in York street, was a witness for her husband, the owner of the dog which is said to have bitten Harris. The latter wants $500 damages for the bite.

Mrs. Welterlen declared she didn't think the dog bit Harris. At the time of the trouble she wanted Harris to show the wound and declared her willingness to pay for a doctor if he were injured. The witness said the plaintiff made the dog mad by throwing stones.

Harris is 77 years old. He claims that on October 29, 1910, he was bitten while crossing a lot near the Welterlen property. The witness said the animal attacked him three times and finally knocked him down. The trial was still going on at press hour.

JAMES FEELEY HURT BY FALL OF BIG CRANE

Hurried to the Galen—Suffering Either from Fractured Skull or Concussion of the Brain.

While helping to assemble a big crane at the West End plant of the Crane Valve Company, this morning, James Feeley, aged 28, of Villa Park, lost his footing and fell heavily to the ground, sustaining a severe blow on the head which rendered him unconscious.

The ambulance corps was summoned but before it arrived Dr. H. M. Clarke, the company's physician, attended to Feeley and hurried him to Dr. Wright's hospital, The Galen.

At that institution, this afternoon, it was stated that Feeley appears to be severely injured, suffering either from a fractured skull or concussion of the brain.

A. F. Of L. Declares War On National Civic Federation

(Special from United Press.)

Atlanta, Nov. 16.—The American Federation of Labor, in annual convention today, decided to urge Congress to pass a workman's compensation law giving a minimum of five years wages to employees killed in service.

A resolution will urge the passage of the La Follette bill which would give free speech to government clerks. The measure would abrogate the order prohibiting government employees from taking part in any effort at legislation without the specific permission of the heads of their departments.

The United Mine Workers introduced a resolution condemning the National Civic Federation and requesting all members of the American Federation of Labor to sever their connection with the Civic Federation. This, it is expected, will precipitate a fight.

A resolution urging the granting of independence to Porto Rico was presented today by a delegation from the island. It will be considered later.

This afternoon the delegates attended an old fashioned barbecue.

Accidental Death Is Verdict in Case of George W. McCormack

"Accidental death" was the verdict given by Medical Examiner S. M. Garlick today concerning the death of George W. McCormack, an elderly man residing at 1081 Stratford avenue, whose dead body was found in his room yesterday afternoon, with a gas jet turned on.

After investigating, Dr. Garlick came to the conclusion that no living soul can tell whether it was a case of accidental death or of suicide, and so gave the dead man the benefit of the doubt. McCormack had never made any suicidal threats. He is survived by several relatives.

CATCH INSANE MAN.

John Gore, who has been an inmate of various insane asylums off and on for many years, was found by Patrolmen McGovern and Grossman, last night, wandering around East Bridgeport in a demented condition. He was arrested and taken to Lakeview Home for observation.

CEGAR CREEK YACHT CLUB IN COURT AGAIN

Cases of Members Reopened and Fines Imposed As Relief to Bondsman

In the city court this morning the enthusiastic yachtsmen who comprise the Cegar Creek Yacht Club, that oft-rided institution, again lined up before the tribunal. This time their presence in court was to allow their bondsman, Walter Anderson, to get back a portion of the money he lost when 42 members of the club forfeited bonds of $25 each on November 8th.

It was claimed in Anderson's behalf that he didn't have time to notify the club members on the previous occasion and thus save his bonds.

Judge Foster reopened the cases this morning and imposed sentences of $1 and costs each. Those who appeared were: Patrick Fleming, William John, Fred Lewis, Robert Sullivan, John Thornhill, George Shepard, James Tooley, William F. Smith, Peter E. Cordan, John Shea, Thomas Kley, Frank Ryan, William McDonald, Michael Kane, William McCabe, Thomas Sounder, Michael Burns, Thomas Casey, Harry Decker, William Wadlaw, George Lewis, and Peter McQueney.

All these cases arose from the first raid on the club, over a month ago. There is a second raid on the club, which yet remains to be thrown into the city court. The headquarters of the club are at Main street and South avenue.

BAILED OUT BY MINISTER
NEW HAVEN LEMON THROWER
FORFEITS THE $5 BOND.

(Special from United Press.)

Waterbury, Nov. 16.—Bailed out last night by Rev. John Lewis, Jr., who came to the police station in a dress suit, George H. Walker, of New Haven, failed to appear in court today to answer to a charge of breach of the peace, and forfeited the Rev. Lewis $5 bond. Walker insisted on throwing lemons and flowers at the chorus girls in a local theater.

P. J. McGuire Is Granted Transfer For First Time in Many Years Commissioners Allow New Saloon in Gregory Street.

After years of effort P. J. McGuire has obtained permission to open a saloon at Columbia and Gregory Sts. The county commissioners this morning granted McGuire a transfer of a license from 1311 Main street to 447 Gregory street. All efforts to locate saloons in this territory within the past 30 years have failed because of the opposition of manufacturers.

McGuire has been very anxious to open a place in a territory which is expected to prove so profitable.

Through his counsel, Attorney Jacob Klein, he claimed the neighborhood had changed within recent years and that there was no longer any reason why the commissioners should declare the vicinity unsuitable for a license.

At the hearing before the commissioners a large number of property owners appeared in favor of the license. One reason why they favored a saloon in Gregory street was that such a place would prevent the procession of "growler parties" marching to Park avenue to get the foaming beverage. The Malleable Iron Co. and other manufacturers are opposed to the license being granted. It is expected they will take the case on appeal to the superior court.

PLEASANT SURPRISE FOR MISS ALICE HOUIGAN

A surprise party was given Miss Helen Houigan at her home, 233 George street, last evening. Miss Houigan received many valuable gifts. The guests sat down to a fine supper at a late hour and all voted the occasion an enjoyable one. Those present were: The Misses Rose and Lillian Paterno, Agnes Brindley, Bessie Golden, Anna Kelly, Helen Fanning, Hilda Dice, Esther Erickson, Lilly McCarthy, Josephine McCarthy, Anna Hill, Eva Farrell, The Misses Burns, Della Regan, and Messrs. David and Isadore Greenspan, Francis Tifer, Thomas Regan, Joe and Raymond Howard, George Kelly, Joe Montag, Joe Houigan, John Houigan, John Fanning and Miss Alice Houigan.

MOTHER PLEADS FOR HER SON Only Chance for Spencer, Accused Slayer, Is on Ground of Insanity Aged Mater Tells Court How Father Cruelly Beat the Boy at a Tender Age

(Special from United Press.)

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 16.—The defense in the trial of Bertram G. Spencer, for the murder of Martha G. Blackstone, during a burglary in the fashionable Round Hill district, began the introduction of testimony, this morning, to support its contention that Spencer is insane.

The completeness of Spencer's confession, as introduced by the state, was met by the defense by the closed every avenue of escape for the prisoner except by insanity. Spencer's was perhaps the most amazing confession of a career of crime ever made in New England. According to his own statement, men, women and children were victims of this slayer, whose career of crime covered a period of two years and included 24 separate robberies and holdups.

It reached its climax in the killing of Miss Blackstone, in March, of last year. And as the whole story was not told, the whole story was not told, the whole story was not told.

Should Spencer be acquitted by the jury by reason of insanity, the law prescribes that the court shall order his confinement in a state asylum for the rest of his life.

Fully realizing that the most she can hope for is the acquittal of her son on the ground of insanity, which means life imprisonment in an asylum, Mrs. Kate E. Spencer, aged mother of the accused, today, at the opening of the trial, this morning, to lay bare the happenings in the family history, and to show the insanity of her son.

Defendant, Mrs. Spencer has kept vigil at the side of the prisoner throughout the trial, comforting her with words of hope whenever he appeared to be breaking down under the strain. In his most violent outbursts, the touch of his mother's hand and the words of hope whenever he appeared to be breaking down under the strain. In his most violent outbursts, the touch of his mother's hand and the words of hope whenever he appeared to be breaking down under the strain.

The witness said that, at one time, she tried to teach the child a prayer and the father whipped him severely. A question about what the prayer was was objected to but was permitted by the court. The witness said it was, "Now I lay me down to sleep."

When the child was seven years of age, the witness said, she heard him screaming in the woodshed because he was being punished. The child came into the house and told her the father had put his head on the chopping block and threatened to cut his

(Continued on Page 2)

WILSON TO BE GUEST OF BRIDGEPORT CLUB

Mayor Clifford B. Wilson will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be tendered by the Bridgeport club in the Meigs building, Thursday night, Nov. 23. Mayor Wilson is the first member of the Bridgeport club to achieve the honor of being elected chief executive of Bridgeport and the other members of the club are going to give a little celebration in his honor.

The affair will be confined to club members and tables will be set for about 100, which is as large a number as can be conveniently accommodated. Individual party tables will be arranged. Spedley's orchestra will furnish music for the occasion and the affair will be strictly non-political and will be entirely of a social nature. The steward is preparing especially fine menu for the occasion.

UNCLASSIFIED

CANARIES, parrots, pigeons and pet stock, cages, seeds, etc. Bird-store, 116 Wall St., upstairs. H 16* p o

TO RENT—5 room flat, gas, bath, set tubs, 240 Bunnell St., $12. Keys 211 State St., Room 313. A* p

FOR SALE—Two Bulck runabouts, one touring car. Bull's Head Auto Station. H 16* p o

ALL CARS transfer to the Trolley. Eagles' hall, Saturday, 11:30 a. m. H 16* p o

FOR SALE—Tickets for ball given for Letter Carrier's Sick Fund. Eagles' Hall, Nov. 17. Ask your carrier. A*

WANTED—Stripers for Japan work. Apply at Private Office of American Graphophone Co., Howard Ave., 9 a. m. H 16* p o

WANTED—Automobile party to take to the Yale-Princeton football game Saturday. Prices reasonable. Fred Larson. Phone No. 31. H 16* p o

VIOLINS, MANOLINS, singlets used from $3 up, also one, slightly used, one viola chess, at Gilman Studio, Court Exchange, 211 State St. A* p

WANTED—Licensed assistant pharmacist, with five, six years experience, give references. Address Pharmacist, care of Farmer Office, 177 Fairfield Ave. H 16* p o

WANTED—Agents, good pay. Must furnish reference. Address or call Orr Jr. Co., 178 Burroughs St. H 16* p o

WHIST, Thursday, 8:15 p. m., St. Anthony's Hall, Colorado Ave. Admission 15 cents. Closing a series. H 16* p o

FOR SALE—6 room cottage, $100 down, balance easy terms. Address "Cottage" care Farmer. H 13 d* p o

NOW OPEN—W. H. McCombs has opened a first class barber shop over the Douglas Shoe Store, Main street. H 4* t o

TRY A BOX of Casca Laxine tablet for constipation. 25 cents. H 1* o

TO RENT—One tenement of 3 and one of 5 rooms, corner East Main and Maple streets. Inquire 473 Maple St. H 11* t o

COLUMBIA Graphophones, latest model, and records, reasonable. P. R. Hoffman, 1091 Broad St. H 24* t o

"Classified" ads on inside page of this paper.

ROOSEVELT EXPECTED AS CHIEF SPEAKER OF HARVARD BANQUET HERE

Former President Theodore Roosevelt is expected to be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Harvard Club of Connecticut, which will be held in this city this winter.

The executive board of the club met in New Haven several days ago and selected Bridgeport as the most likely spot for this year's banquet. The arrangements are as yet incomplete.

It was principally through the instrumentality of Elbridge H. Greene, manager of the Berkshire Mills Co. and formerly one of the most notable figures of the intercollegiate gridiron, that Bridgeport was chosen for the banquet. Mr. Greene, who was the Harvard center in Captain Campbell's eleven in 1891 when Harvard defeated Yale, 22 to 0, is a vice president of the Harvard Club of Connecticut.

He advanced the cause of Bridgeport and pointed out the facilities for the banquet afforded by the Hotel Stratfield.

The committee of arrangements in correspondence with the national Harvard graduate, Theodore Roosevelt, seeking a speaking date that they may tions with the Civic Federation. This, it is expected, will precipitate a fight.

Mr. Greene, who is in charge of the local arrangements, said today that

WILSON TO BE GUEST OF BRIDGEPORT CLUB

Mayor Clifford B. Wilson will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be tendered by the Bridgeport club in the Meigs building, Thursday night, Nov. 23. Mayor Wilson is the first member of the Bridgeport club to achieve the honor of being elected chief executive of Bridgeport and the other members of the club are going to give a little celebration in his honor.

The affair will be confined to club members and tables will be set for about 100, which is as large a number as can be conveniently accommodated. Individual party tables will be arranged. Spedley's orchestra will furnish music for the occasion and the affair will be strictly non-political and will be entirely of a social nature. The steward is preparing especially fine menu for the occasion.

UNCLASSIFIED

TO RENT—A handsome apartment of six rooms, all improvements, 437 Clinton Avenue, near P. 2, 2nd floor, 311 Security Building. Phone 1347-2 or 1305-3. G 24* t o

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN. Money. If so cover your pipes, boiler and furnace at once. Estimates cost you nothing. J. J. Welsh, 114 South St. G 23* t o

ENHANCED WEDDING invitations 100 with two sets of envelopes, room plate $6.50. Engraved on copper plate. Southworth's 10 Arcade. D 16* t o

FOUND—A dog, tri color, owner can have same by calling at 569 Brooks street, between 7 and 8 p. m., pending expenses. H 13* p o

GOOD SECOND HAND National Cash Register for sale cheap. Address P. O. Box 146, City. 82* t o

GUINOA HENS, ducks, roasting chickens, broilers, fowl, liver, pig, sausage meat, Bologna, Bismoke & Ritz. G 15* t o

FOR SALE OR TO LET, on Hollister Heights, 5 room cottage with barn and well. Enquire Drew Brown, East Main and Maple Sts. Telephone 3653. H 15* p o

BOMMOS & BILTZ. We will have fresh sausage meat every day from now on. 118* t o

HARVEST WHIST AND PINOCHE given by Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H. No. 10, Friday evening, Nov. 17, 189 State St. Prizes will consist of prizes and everything necessary for a Thanksgiving dinner. Admission 15 cents. A*

$400 REWARD—$200 ($100 for each) paid for return of team colt black farm mare, 6-7 years old, 16 hands, about 1,250 pounds each, short and blocky, tall short but not curly, one has slight Roman nose, and scars on hind ankles; stolen from stable, Summit, N. J., Oct. 31, 1909 reward ($100 for each) for information leading to conviction of the thieves. John R. Todd, Summit, N. J., or 320 Fifth Ave., New York. A*

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY. FOR SALE—Saloon, liquor license, and two tenement houses in good condition. Desirable location, business profitable and growing. Income from saloon $800. Price $10,000, half will be left on mortgage. Present owner desires to retire to his farm. Address C. F. this office. H 16* p o

"Classified" ads on inside page of this paper.